

Music

Can you notate (write the notes for) these call and responses?

CALL

Would you be an explorer?

Antarctica is miles away

Ice, ice, everywhere

RESPONSE

I'm not sure where I'd explore

You might never get there

I am frozen solid

There are different ways you could do this. Here are some notes to help you.

Slick Jim

Slick Jim won the lottery.

He spent two thirds of his winnings on a very posh house.

He spent two thirds of what he had left on a luxury yacht.

Then he spent two thirds of what he had left on a hot air balloon.

He spent his last £20000 on a flashy car.

How much did Slick Jim win on the lottery?

The answers are on the next slide!

07.07.20

Maths Challenge
Answers

Year 6

Jim won £540 000.

Details of the Day.....

7am

8am

9am

10am

11am

12pm

1pm

2pm

3pm

4pm

5pm

6pm

7pm

8pm

9pm.

10pm

A Week's Worth

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK JUST GONE

|      |     |     |
|------|-----|-----|
| DAY  | DAY | DAY |
| DAY  | DAY | DAY |
| DAY. |     |     |

Vocabulary Ninja SPaG Spotter

| Can you spot?               | Circle it in the sentence.                                 |
|-----------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------|
| the nouns                   | The band played a concert to the huge crowd of fans.       |
| the verbs                   | Wash the pots, brush your teeth and be quiet.              |
| the adjectives              | Put the orange and red balls in the brown box.             |
| an adverb                   | The pupils sensibly walked along the corridor to the hall. |
| the articles                | I was a soldier before I became an actor.                  |
| the determiner              | Those biscuits look so crunchy! Mmmm!                      |
| the prepositions            | Go around the corner and under the bridge.                 |
| a coordinating conjunction  | It was still early, yet we were ready for bed.             |
| the pronouns                | I went inside her bag to find my pencil case.              |
| a subordinating conjunction | Until the music stopped, they danced wildly.               |
| a noun phrase               | I own a very old horse .                                   |

| Can you add?                         | Add it to the sentence.                                         |
|--------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------|
| a comma to make a fronted adverbial. | Before I go to bed I clean my teeth and brush my hair.          |
| add commas in the list               | Hull Glasgow Swansea and St. Ives are my favourite places.      |
| add a / an                           | I would love to own _____ aardvark farm one day.                |
| add hyphen                           | He was a strong willed father who lived alone.                  |
| add the capital letters              | disneyland paris is open january to december, monday to sunday. |

Answers on next slide!

Vocabulary Ninja SPaG Spotter

| Can you spot?               | Circle it in the sentence.                                 | Can you add?                         | Add it to the sentence.                                         |
|-----------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------|
| the nouns                   | The band played a concert to the huge crowd of fans        | a comma to make a fronted adverbial. | Before I go to bed, I clean my teeth and brush my hair.         |
| the verbs                   | Wash the pots, brush your teeth and be quiet.              | add commas in the list               | Hull, Glasgow, Swansea and St. Ives are my favourite places.    |
| the adjectives              | Put the orange and red balls in the brown box.             | add a / an                           | I would love to own an aardvark farm one day.                   |
| an adverb                   | The pupils sensibly walked along the corridor to the hall. | add hyphen                           | He was a strong-willed father who lived alone.                  |
| the articles                | I was a spolder before I became an actor.                  | add the capital letters              | Disneyland Paris is open January to December, Monday to Sunday. |
| the determiner              | Those biscuits look so crunchy! Mmmmm!                     |                                      |                                                                 |
| the prepositions            | Go around the corner and under the bridge.                 |                                      |                                                                 |
| a coordinating conjunction  | It was still early yet we were ready for bed.              |                                      |                                                                 |
| the pronouns                | I went inside her bag to find my pencil case.              |                                      |                                                                 |
| a subordinating conjunction | Until the music stopped, they danced wildly.               |                                      |                                                                 |
| a noun phrase               | I own a very old horse.                                    |                                      |                                                                 |

Thinking about our members of the family, can you remember who these people are in English?

le demi-frère

---

la mère

---

le neveu

---

la soeur

---

le beau-père

---

Answers on next slide!

10.07.20

French
Answers

Year 6

half brother or step brother

mother

nephew

sister

step dad or father-in-law

