

Head Lice

Head lice and nits are very common in young children and their families. They do not have anything to do with dirty hair and are picked up by head-to-head contact. Head lice is easily treated and nothing to be overly concerned about.

In the event your child is affected please follow guidance contained in the following NHS link:

Please also:

- Let us know in order that we may make other parents/carers aware.
Note – under no circumstances will we disclose the name of the child affected
- Maintain attendance once your child has been treated

In the event head lice are detected whilst your child is present in Kindergarten we will contact you in confidence.
